Hi I’m Megan, the National Children’s Commissioner. It is my job to help make life better for children and young people in Australia, and I want to hear from YOU about how I should do this.

It would be great if you could help by writing or drawing on the back of this postcard. You can also have your say online at somethingincommon.gov.au/thebigbanter

Your story is important to me and I’m here to make sure your voice is heard...
Life would be better for children and young people in Australia if…